Funder:

The Campaign for College Opportunity

Scholarship Title:

Save Me a Spot in College

Deadline:

March 15, 2010

Description:

As California's demand for educated workers grows, we need more of our young people to go to college and succeed. The "Save Me a Spot in College" scholarship contest invites you to create a written word entry, poster or TV ad answering the contest question, "Why should California leaders save you and your peers a spot in college?" Specific rules apply to each category and grade group, please review the rules specific for each category: <http://www.collegecampaign.org/contest/rules.html>

Eligibility:

Contest open to California students from 6th through 12th grade. The funders do not ask for grades, income or immigration status. If you are an undocumented student, you may enter the contest.

Application:

The Contest deadline is March 15, 2010 at 11:59pm. All entries must be mailed (post-marked) or submitted online (<http://www.collegecampaign.org>) by that date to be considered.

Award:

Scholarships are given in six categories:

- High School Written Word
- Middle School Written Word
- High School Poster
- Middle School Poster
